ATTENDANCE AT THE VETERANS' REUNION EXCEEDS ESTIMATE

Accommodations for Members of Eight Ohio Civil War Regiments at Presbyterian Ladies' Dinner Prove Inadequate—Program at M. E. Church Friday Afternoon.

With approximately 175 old veterans attending, all expectations were exceeded in the opening of the joint reunion of eight regiments of Civil war veterans in Coshocton Friday morning. The attendance included in many cases the wives and families of the veterans and is believed to number in the neighborhood of three or four hundred.

The ladies of the Social Circle of the Presbyterian church experienced considerable difficulty in seating the crowd for dinner and many of the veterans waited in line for several minutes before accommodations were secured. The ladies had been notified to expect a comparatively small attendance. The line of veterans extended from the Presbyterian church up Chestnut-st almost to the Pennsylvania railroad.

The reunion was opened early Friday morning and included the followinging regiments, all Ohio organizations: 30th, 51st, 52nd, 80th, 98th, 125th, 161st, 170th. While the majority of the members live in Ohio some few came from distant states. The following are the places at which the various regiments, in the order named, assembled: G. A. R. hall, M. E. church, new and old auditorium and Sunday school room, city hall, Salvation Army citadel, court house court room, Presbyterian Sunday school room.

Headed by the Salvation Army band and accompanied by a drum corps, the veterans marched at 11:30 from the courthouse up Main-st and out north Fifth-st to Chestnut-st, assembling at the Presbyterian church for dinner. Tables were arranged in the basement of the church and dinner prepared there for the veterans by the ladies of the Social Circle of the church.

The number of veterans greatly exceeded the estimate given the ladies by the committee in charge and considerable difficulty was experienced in seating them. The rooms assigned to the veterans were crowded beyond their capacity and many were seated in the main auditorium.

Following dinner the various regiments assembled in the auditorium of the M. E. church to be formally welcomed and to open their business sessions. The welcome address was to be delivered by T. L. Montgomery and the response made by Attorney S. H. Nicholas. The welcome will be preceded by an invocation to be offered by Rev. J. A. Speer. Business sessions will follow. A camp fire meeting of all the veterans will feature the closing of the reunion. The camp fire will be held in the M. E. church andwill be featured by talks of the veterans and exchange of staries of their experiences in '61 to '65.

LAWYERS' FEES TO BE BOOSTED

If you're going to make your will, sell your farm, or sue for divorce it will pay you to hurry, as it will cost you more to procure legal assistance in short time.

At the meeting of the Coshocton-co Bar Association Thursday afternoon, a committee, composed of B. F. Voorhees, C. Homer Durand, R. B. McDermott, T. H. Wheeler, and W. S. Merrell, was appointed to draw up a new schedule of fees.

During the discussion the attorneys were unanimous in the opinion that the present schedule is too low and not commensurate with the advance in pay for other lines of work. It was pointed out that not only have the wages of various kinds of labor greatly increased but the cost of living has gone skyward until the oldtime fees charged by lawyers for writing deeds, mortgages, leases, contracts of sale and other legal documents have become entirely obsolete.

The purpose is to fix a minimum charge for each class of work so that no attorney will perform work for any amount lower than the minimum price. No maximum price is to be fixed.

MRS. RANDLES IS SUMMONED

Mrs. Arvilda Randles, wife of Jesse Randles, living two miles south of Bowman, died Friday morning at 7:15 o'clock at the age of 58 years as the result of two months' illness from diabetes.

Mrs. Randles is survived by three sons and two daughters. The three sons, Alonzo, Herbert and Glenn all reside at the home. The daughters are Mrs. Maud Rogers, of Newark, and Mrs. Media Dickerson, Cooperdale. Two brothers also survive, Lee Fortune, Canal Lewisville and Eli Fortune of this city. There are also two sisters, Mrs. Jerry Miller, Coshocton, and Mrs. R. J. Randles, Warsaw.

The decedent was a valued member of the Blooming Grove M. E. church and by her upright life and kindly disposition had won a wide circle of friends.

The funeral services will be held Sunday, leaving the house at 10:00 o'clock and burial will be made in Blooming Grove cemeteery. Service at the church will be at 11:00 o'clock.

LAW OFFICES TO BE OPEN SIX FULL DAYS HEREAFTER

At a meeting of the Coshocton County Bar Association Thursday afternoon it was decided to discontinue the closing of law offices on Saturday afternoons. The meeting was called for the purpose of securing an expression of opinion upon the matter. Most of the attorneys present expressed themselves as favorable to continuing to close on Saturday afternoons, provided all law offices observe the half holiday. A few of the attorneys stated that it would work a hardship upon them to close on Saturday afternoons. Since the closing could not be made unanimous, a motion carried to keep the law offices open on Saturday afternoons hereafter.

NOVELTY WORKERS WALK OUT; ASK FOR 15 PER CENT INCREASE

Practically 80 per cent of the men, according to figures of the strikers, were out Friday morning from the Novelty Advertising Company plant, east Walnut-st.

The men are demanding an increase of 15 per cent and time and a half for overtime. Notice of the proposed strike was served upon Robert Ryan, official of the company, by the following men who compose the committee for the strikers: John Gross, chairman; C. P. Rucker, Raymond Walker, Dan Walker, James VanAlstyne, David Wilson, Charles Holder and Miss Julia Burkey.

In a statement Friday a member of the committee stated that an attempt had been made to settle the strike by granting some few men a raise, principally men who were on the committee. This, he construed as an attempt to buy the committee. It was turned down. An official of the plant said Friday morning that the company had no statement to make.

The strike, the men say, includes the job pressmen, paint shop, wood and stencil rooms as well as over half of the girls. Leather workers, who work on piece work are not included but are said to be in sympathy with the strike.

Friday afternoon Robert Ryan, representing the company, gave the press the following statement:

"Quite a number of our employes are off today mostly from our printing department. There was a demand for an increase in wages and we took up

STEEL STRIKE IS FOR RIGHTS OF LABOR, SAY MEN'S LEADER

Representation Must Be Granted, Letter To Pres. Wilson Declares

JUDGE GARY FLAYED

Cause Of Strike Is The Refusal Of Audience By Corporation

PITTSBURG, Sept. 19.—Labor's announcement of its intent to fight for democratization of industry made in a solemn letter addressed to President Wilson, will resound thru the country today.

No labor without representation, is the slogan of the leaders of 24 unions, whose members are employed in the steel industry, and who, on Monday are scheduled to walk out of the plants. Their strike is to be continued until heads of the steel companies consent to a conference with the labor leaders, at which the grievances of the men can be discussed and adjusted.

How effective the strike will be is entirely unknown to outsiders.

The letter to President Wilson informing him that it is impossible to accede to his request for postponement of the strike until after the conference in Washington October 6, was a scathing indictment of the United States Steel Corporation.

Its charges against the corporation ranged from intimidation of workmen in prevention of organization, arming of plants with cannon and rifles, and on to murder.

The president was told that delay was no longer possible.

The history of the long fight of labor in seeking recognition was shown, and regret was expressed that for the first time labor could not favorably respond to a request from the president because "delay here means the surrender of all hope."

The immediate cause of the strike is based by the leaders solidly upon the steadfast refusal of Judge Gary to meet the steel workers committee in conference. This, they declare, is denial of labor's right of representation in industry and determining the conditions under which it shall work. John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the committee, and W. B. Rubins, general counsel, draw a distinct line between "representation" and "participation."

Rubin declares the fight is strictly for democratization of the steel industry thru representation of labor in the determination of hours, wages and living conditoins. This can be gained only thru organization and recognition of such organization, permitting trained representatives of the workers to speak for them, he asserts.

The leaders are obviously prepared to fight to the limit, and declare that the spirit of the men would not permit of a postponement. Whether public opinion will support or be hostile to a big strike at this critical economic period is apparently not a matter of concern to Rubins or Fitzpatrick. Rubins is a former criminal lawyer, and says he has won more homicide cases when public opinion was against him than when it was with him.

Fitzpatrick declares that all newspapers are controlled by capital, that they never print the truth about labor anyhow.

Fitzpatrick left Pittsburg last night for Washington, where he will give President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, a copy of the letter sent to President Wilson. Rubins left for New York, and most of the representatives of the various unions departed for their homes to make final preparations for the strike.

BULGARIANS ARE HANDED THE TREATY

Balkan Boundaries Are Changed In Favor Of Bulgaria's Enemies

MITIGATIONS ASKED

PARIS, Sept. 19.—Without any ceremony the Bulgarians were handed the peace treaty at the French foreign office today. They were given 45 days to make a reply.

T. Theodoroff, Bulgarian Premier and head of the peace delegation, made an address in which he urged that mitigations be granted in the peace terms.

The delivery of the treaty took place in the presence of a single representative of each allied country and ten newspaper correspondents.

Re-adjustment of frontiers aiming to promote the peace of the Balkans and recognition of a new state, form the new features of the Bulgarian treaty which follows the Austrian treaty in general outline.

The most important territorial changes provide;

First—That Bulgaria modify her boundaries in four places in favor of Serbia, and second, that western Thrace be ceded to the allies for future disposition. The frontiers with Rumania and Greece remain practically unchanged.

Other provisions of the treaty are that Bulgaria reduce her army to twenty thousand men, pay a reparation bill of $450,000,000, recognize the independence of Jugo-Slavia, and renounce the treaties of Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest.

Disposition of western Thrace was the question which delayed completion of the treaty, the American delegation opposing the rest of the allies in their decision to award it to Greece Whatever final settlement is finally made, the Bulgarians it is stated will be granted an outlet to the Aegean sea.

COMPANY GOES TO COUNCIL SEPT. 23

By Comparison Natural Gas Is Worth $3.12 Per M, Company Declares

NOW SELLS FOR 33c

Amount Of Increase Wanted Is Not Specified; Artificial Gas The Alternative

Coshocton may be without natural gas this winter unless immediate and favorable action to increase the prevailing price is taken by council.

This became known Friday in an open letter addressed to the members of the council by Ernest B. Smith, secretary and treasurer of the Coshocton Gas Co.

The letter sets forth that because of conditions brot about by the World War, the cost of procuring natural gas has doubled since 1915 and producers state that it is impossible for them to furnish natural gas at the present price.

It is pointed out, in support of their position, that the price of coal has advanced practically 300 per cent and that artifical gas is furnished to consumers at the rate of $1.25 per thousand feet. Natural gas is quoted as being worth two and one half times as much as the artifical product. Gas companies, the letter says are now suffering between a fixed selling price and unfixed cost until it is no longer possible for them to carry the burden and guarantee even a reasonable supply of natural gas. Natural gas is now being furnished to Coshocton under a franchise at 33 cents per thousand feet.

The company will present the matter before coucil at the next meeting on Sept. 22 and advise that body that its action will largely determine the outcome of the situation.

The company touches upon the proposition of the manufacture of artificial gas and concludes with a query as to whether or not the best possible efforts will be put forth, under the increased cost conditions to secure natural gas or whether the city will revert to the artificial product.

That council would oppose the request for the increased rate seemed to be the general opinion Friday. In such a case the proposition will be taken most probably before the state utilities commission for decision. That the company could be held strictly to its contract if the same is drawn to protect the city, despite what the board might rule, was the opinion of Attorney Geo. D. Klein, city solicitor. The matter will be taken up at the meeting of the council next Monday night.

That the move is made for the purpose of eliminating large consumers was the statement of Ernest B. Smith secretary of the company, Friday. It is believed desirable to limit the use of gas to light, cooking and for the purpose of heating water. In explaining that natural gas is worth approximately twice as much as the artificial product, it was pointed out, that the natural product contains about twice as much heating qualities as the artificial.

Gas rates in many cities are said to range from 50 to 60 cents per thousand and in some place the price increases with the amount consumed. It is probable that a new rate of 50 cents may be asked here but the company refused to disclose Friday what the increase to be asked would amount to.

CITIES FIGHT GAS COMPANIES

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—President Gahn, of the Cleveland common council, announced today he would ask the council Monday to empower the public utilities commission to form a league with other cities to fight Ohio gas corporations. It is planned to enroll all cities alleged to have been threatened with discontinuance of service by the East Ohio and other natural gas producing companies.

At the meeting here last night on the gas supply situation, it was decided to hold another conference next Thursday and invitations to attend the meeting have been sent to Youngstown, Akron, Canton, Alliance, Warren, Niles and Salem.

VENGEFUL COURTS.

There is nothing so deadening to the soul of democracy as the delay of the law in the trial of men accused of crimes against the state. And to this many of our prisons, some of them federal, are adding the nerve-racking strain of insanitation and filth.

According to the report of Winthrop D. Lane in The Survey, the federal prisoners in Kansas jails have been held for more than twenty months without trial and to this injustice is added the indignity of keeping these men in cells so filthy that the health of more than ninety percent of them has been seriously undermined.

It has been the boast of English law for centuries that a man is innocent until he is proved guilty. Yet it is no uncommon thing in America in these latter days to see men arrested on "suspicion," thrown in jail and made to suffer all the mental anguish and physical torture of solitary confinement —AND THEN AT THE END OF LONG DELAYED TRIALS TO BE DECLARED INNOCENT.

It is true that the defenders of these acts of gross injustice say that the accused may be admitted to bail. Yes, there is the semblance of theoretical truth in this, but in practice it doesn't work. A man whose friends are rich may escape confinement thru bail, but how about men whose friends are poor? Our prisons everywhere afford a silent but ominous answer to this.

It simply works out that a rich man, tho he be a notorious scoundrel, secures his liberty, while the poor man, tho he be the soul of honor and suffering false accusation, is buried hopelessly behind prison walls. It is a situation that must cause thinking Americans genuine concern, if our country is to escape the charge that we administer two kinds of justice, one for the rich and another for the poor.

Practically every nation in Europe, allied countries and Central Powers alike, have issued wholesale pardons to their political prisoners. Yet America seems more hardened to the plea of mercy than the most reactionary states in Europe.

Revenge certainly cannot be the basic purpose of the law in America. The real aim of the law in dealing with offenders is to prevent a repetition of the offense. And however sharp the divergence between the views of our political prisoners and the powers-that-be during the war, they were in the main honest views and with the cessation of the war they should not longer be denied the rights which our common law for five centuries has vouchsafed to us all.

There are already too many embittered men in America who believe that the laws of this country are for the benefit of the rich and that the only way to improve conditions is thru revolution. And if this belief grows in the ensuing years the greatest contributing factor will be the attitude of many of our state and federal courts.

Not only our common law for centuries back, but the moral code of the Great Teacher himself warns us that it is better for the guilty to go unpunished than for innocent men to suffer for crimes they have never even contemplated.

THE OLD JOB

When Autumn comes, with soothing sighs, I grow so tired of swatting flies, which light upon my roof! Thru all the weary months since Spring I've swatted flies upon the wing, and also on the hoof. When Spring arrives, all fresh and young, and first the call to arms is sprung, I swat the flies with glee; I think it goodly exercise to chase and execute the flies, but now it wearies me. Throughout the balmy days of May I take my swatting stick and slay, with fierce and ardent hand; and when the roses bloom in June my Berserk song I weirdly croon, and swat to beat the band. And in the heat of mid-July, I'm on the spoor of every fly that still remains unslain; and August finds me, stern and grim, still rending buzzers limb from limb, though bent beneath the strain. But when the mild September comes, the pesky fly and all his chums may roost on wall and floor; though I have slain ten billion flies the ghastly truth I recognize—there are ten billions more. You've heard about that fabled gun who rolled a stone that weighed a ton up hill forevermore; no useful purpose he achieved, and that's why he was pained and peeved, and why his head was sore. No man enjoys his work on earth unless he gets his labor's worth in one or other guise; to roll a boulder up a hill until one's feet get tired and chill, is much like swatting flies.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

Wild Beasts

You never would dream that a lion
With a collar of whiskery hair
And a mouth full of teeth lies in hiding beneath
That plush covered library chair;
Nor yet that a great anaconda
Is coiled in the velvety gloom
All ready to spring on the first living thing
That tries to get out of the room—

You'd never suppose that a leopard
Whose morals are black to the core,
Is lying in wait, both eyes blazing hate,
Right out by the dining room door.
You'd hardly believe that a grizzly
Who'll eat up a boy at a bite,
Is watching up stairs for the youngster who dares
To venture up there in the night—

You wouldn't suspect that a cobra
Who is nearly eleven feet tall
And has fangs like a spear, has been hovering near;
In fact by the clock in the hall.
Nor think that a horrid hyena
Is crouching right there in the grate
With a death-dealing paw and a long, hungry jaw,
Just yearning to settle your fate—

And yet they are all in the shadows,
And will bite the first person to stir,
I well am aware that the whole tribe are there
For a little boy told me they were.
And that, without doubt, is the reason
That he stubbornly shakes his small head
And whispers: "Come too!" when the sand man is due
And it's time to be tucked into bed!

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—It is taking a lot of money and the entire legal machinery of the district attorney's office to fasten the law's clutch on "Kid" Regan, a dapper little pomaded chap of Broadway's army of the workless. The Kid has a string of aliases, among them being James R. Ryan but his real name is Peter F. Regan and he is a brother of Police Lieutenant Martin Regan.

The Kid has been making a handbook on the races with his headquarters on the curb at Broadway and 48th st. Before that he ran crap games and poker games in various parts of the town. Several times his bankroll has been peeled down to the rubber band but the Kid is ingenious and he always shows up serenely with more of the old jack.

His latest arrest was for working the old coin matching game on an unsuspecting but subsequently indignant gentleman from San Francisco who was in the city to see the sights and the Kid, it is alleged, asked him for a match or something to break the conversational ice—and well it was the same old story.

The man from [illegible]t, out where the great heart [illegible]ean—if you believe your m[illegible] lessons, was as free of money two hours later as a crippled flea is of crutches. And the Kid had some traveler's checks which he took to a jazzy haberdashery shop and signed so that he might indulge in his passion for silken shirts, filagreed hose and bizarre cravats.

Then the Kid was pinched. The victim said The Kid's police lieutenant brother came around and offered to settle with him for cash if he would withdraw the charges. He spurned the gold and then the New York World, which the police say is always mussing into private affairs, got on the job and demanded that the Kid be prosecuted.

Legal juggling began—from court to court—and all the tricks of the trade were used. The Kid claims persecution and so does the police lieutenant who doesn't deny that it has kept him pretty busy keeping his ne'er do well brother out of trouble before. The underworld is watching the case with unusual interest. Precedents mean a lot to the underworld.

They were discussing Booth Tarkington; the Indiana novelist, at the Press Club the other day and his publisher's agent who was present remarked that Tarkington worked harder than any other novelist, in his opinion. He does not use a typewriter. He works at an artist's drawing table with a little stock of paper before him and every word is pondered and balanced. Heywood Broun, of the Tribune, who was present declared that if Mr. Tarkington used lead pencils he was quite sure that Harold Bell Wright composed only on a typewriter, pausing only once every twenty-four hours to oil the machine with a little treacle. He also opined that Robert W. Chambers used only an adding machine and Theodore Dreiser an axe.

The Fifth Avenue jewelry shops are displaying in their windows the most elegant line of silver tipped hip-pocket flasks one could imagine. There are those too with flecks of gold entwined in the cut glass. There are places for the engraving of names and addresses too—for the loss of the contents in New York in these days is a mighty one. The jewelers say that the demand for fine hip-pocket flasks is tremendous. Many wholesalers are inventing tiny cock-tail flasks for the vest pockets and now Milady's vanity case has a cocktail tube as a regular part of the outfit. It may be allright. I'm a bit old fashioned—and anyway while these folk are filling these glittering flasks with choice liquors I cannot help but think of the eight men in the Bronx who went into the back end of a cheap saloon and were given wood alcohol and were carried to the hospital blinded and paralyzed an hour later.

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINTY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city.

"But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arcine and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and snuff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arcine say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

KINDNESS OF MAMMY GETS GOOD REWARD

CHILLICOTHE, O, Sept. 19—Kindness brings its reward—at least "Aunt Fannie" Angel found it that way.

She's an old colored woman who has had to work hard all her life. Now she will draw $50 a month for the remainder of her life because she was kind to a colored 'doughboy' at Camp Sherman last year.

Robert Raburn, the soldier is dead. "Aunt Fannie" is named beneficiary in his war risk insurance amounting to $10,000.

Raburn came to Chillicothe from the south as a laborer. He was employed in the building of the cantonment. He boarded at Aunt Fannie's. The news reached Aunt Fannie today.

DAYTON MAN AND HIS WIFE AIDED BY TAKING DRECO

He Had Bad Case of Catarrh; Was Tired and Worn Out all the Time. She was nervouse with Weak Kidneys and Lazy Liver.

"Both my husband and I have been taking Dreco, and it has helped us very much," declared Mrs. Della Findlay, of 516 Newcome Ave, Dayton, O. Mr. Findlay is a well known employe of the Maxwell Auto Co.

"I was terribly broken and rundown so nervous I could not sleep and as weak as a baby. My stomach stayed filled with gas, and I had terrible pains in my back and right side, and my liver was sore. I was so nervous that every little thing irritated me beyond reason, and I'd lie awake all night and worry and fret and jump at every little noise. I really dreaded for night to come. My stomach hurt all the time.

"A friend advised me to try Dreco, as she had taken it and got fine relief from the same troubles as mine. I am now thankful for the good Dreco has done me. My nerves are quiet so that I sleep well; no more pain or gas in my stomach; bowels act regular and my liver is cleared off.

My husband had catarrh something awful. Every morning he would be stopped up, and he would cough mucus for hours. He would get nauseated and his stomach got in a bad condition; he felt tired and drowsy all the time. Dreco has done him worlds of good, for he rises in the morning now with his head clear as a bell; his stomach is strong again, and he is full of energy once more Both of us are great boosters for Dreco."

A MINSTREL WORTH SEEING

The J. A. Coburn Minstrels paid their initial visit to Coshocton Wednesday evening. Every seat had been sold and comfortable standing space was at a premium.

The good repute of this organization is the explanation of last evening's capacity house and it had preceded them from several surrounding Ohio towns.

These two old standbys in minstrelsy, Eddie Clifford and Charley Gano, are still prime favorites with theatre goers here as elsewhere Clifford played Coshocton with Field's Minstrels years ago, more than twenty, he says, and he likes the town. He has naturally a remarkable voice and careful training and years of practice on the stage, in churches and lyceum work has made his singing a feature with every show with which he has been connected for a quarter of a century.

Charley Gano, Coburn's chief comedian, is also well known and extremely popular. Both he and Clifford are Ohio boys, Gano's home being in Springfield and Clifford's in Urbana.

The whole of the Coburn outfit is extremely clever. From first to last the entire cast works fast, is full of pep and dash A big majority of the songs are good and the chorus work is unusually effective The first part is an unusually strong minstrel bill and held last night's big audience closely gripped from curtain to curtain. It is a minstrel well worth seeing.

FIRES CLAIM HUNDREDS OF LIVES IN OHIO

STYLE SHOW IS REVELATION OF AUTUMN FASHIONS

The large crowd of women and girls and the five or six men who attended the Golden style show Wednesday evening saw an impressive exhibition of stylish gowns, coats, suits, dresses, furs and blouses. Living models paraded on a long platform in the rear of the store to music furnished by Athey's orchestra. Children's, misses', women's garments were all shown.

While the garments have acquired prices this year greatly exceeding those of former years, they also surpass both in beauty of material and in style those of many previous years Almost every coat, suit and dress shown possessed a distinctiveness in design.

The store was decorated with box trees, palms and autumn leaves. The windows were artistically decorated for the occasion, a few of the more stunning models being used for this purpose.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

URGES INDEPENDENT VICTORY

Editor The Tribune

The old line politicians have made every effort to prevent the Wage Earners' ticket recently nominated in this city from appearing on the ballot in the November election They have so long been in the habit of driving the workers up to the polls with a lot of empty promises and the partisan label that it is only natural that they want to continue to do so. But people have begun to get away from that old party fake. Instead of voting parties into office, are going to vote ideas into action.

The time will soon be past when a man will say "am going to vote for so and so because he is on my ticket He will say I am going to vote for him because of the principles that he stands for" The party label will not make any difference to the intelligent voter. But the old parties have been dodging the real issues for so long and have been getting by on moon shine and hot air that they expect to continue indefinitely.

I don't know whether the people are getting weaker or not, but I do believe they are getting wiser Between the producer and the consumer in this country there stands a long line of cooties taking toll from everything that is produced and the masses either thru ignorance or indifference have allowed these parasitical gentlemen to control the law making bodies and the executive offices of the country until they have got the workers on the verge of revolution. Conditions are almost unbearable, but we do not need a revolution to remedy them We already have the weapon, the right to vote, and if we use that with intelligence we can do wonders But if we continue to vote in the future as we have in the past the future looks mighty black.

But let us awaken to the danger before it is too late We will be called Socialists, bolsheviks, anarchists and every other name with which the kept press nas prejudiced the mind of the people. But we will go on just the same

BACK FROM THE WAR

I have just returned from France.

One hundred and fifty people have asked me what the gold stripes mean.

Five hundred have asked whether or not the average German was a brutal type—"do they look different from other people, I mean?"

One thousand have said, "You must have seen some awful sights!" and demanded gory details.

Three thousand four hundred and ninety-seven have hinted archly at entangling alliances with French maidens.

Forty-eight thousand six hundred and seventy-three have remarked, "It was a wonderful experience, wasn't it?"

One has gripped my hand and said a bit huskily: "Well, son—oh, son, but it's good to see you again!"

One has held me in her arms and cried a bit and seen that I had my favorite dessert after dinner.

One has said and done a number of things that are no one's business but hers and mine.

One has put her muddy paws on my new uniform and nearly wagged her tail off trying to tell me that she is glad to see me.—Judge.

SUGAR FAMINE GRIPS COSHOCTON

Coshocton was in the throes of a sugar famine Thursday when practically all grocers were limiting the purchase of two pounds to a customer

The shortage is believed due to the excessive demand which prevails now because of the canning season The shortage is confined chiefly to granulated sugar There is no limit fixed on the sale of brown sugar or white of the loaf variety Grocers believe that the shortage will be overcome shortly.

CANTON—Fire which for a time threatened the entire north east end of Canton completely destroyed the main office and lumber yard of the Canton lumber company, Sixth street and Wheeling and Lake Erie, railway, causing a loss which will not exceed $50,000.

First discovery of the blaze was made shortly before seven o'clock and altho the fire department arrived within a few minutes, the entire building was a mass of names and beyond saving.

The Prince of Wales at Home and on The Battlefield

LONDON, Sept. 18. — "It doesn't matter if I am killed. I have plenty of brothers at home."

When the Prince of Wales was in France that was always his reply when remonstrated with for taking undue risks. He went on active service at his own request and any idea that during his periods of service of France, Italy, and in Egypt, he was kept in cotton wool would be an error.

Right up to the signing of the Armistice he was never treated as the Prince of Wales, but just as any other officer—any Captain Smith or Brown.

During the retreat from Mons, as he sat at dinner in mess, the telephone rang incessantly, first for this officer, then for that. No orders came for the Prince of Wales. Aching to serve, he seemed to be the only officer the War Office didn't want. At last he went to Kitchener and made a personal appeal.

The great Field Marshal's reply was characteristically blunt "It won't matter in the least if you are killed, but it won't do if you are taken prisoner, so you can't go."

Later on, despite this assertion, the Prince got his desire and went to France. Out there he ran exactly the same risks as any other officer, and as there are always doubting Thomases who decline to believe that a Prince of royal blood is allowed to run any risks whatsoever, it may be definitely stated that at Vermelles, during the Battle of Loos, the Prince had just got out of his car, when a shell killed his chauffeur and partially wrecked the car. In the autumn of 1917, in the front-line trenches, a shell just cleared the Prince and took off the leg of a soldier standing behind him. In Italy, while at dinner, bomb fell outside the window of the mess, breaking all the glass. The same thing happened in France when bombs fell immediately outside the hut where the Prince was living as any "Captain Smith" might have done.

One of the Prince's experiences shows an amusing variation from routine. It was on the Somme, in July, 1916, when the Prince with a senior staff officer, was going along a duckboard. They heard a shell coming and dived for shelter. The Prince landed, via a bush, on top of an extremely surprised gunner, who was executing his morning shave. Happily, the man was using a safety razor, and no serious damage was done.

"Our Kid," "Captain Woodbine" and "Captain Pow" (initial letters Prince of Wales) are three of the soubriquets earned by the Prince of Wales in France.

Those who came in contact with the Prince "over there" probably found him at his best, for it was then his manhood came to him. When he left English shores for active service he was just a natural, and rather bashful lad. In France things were altogether different for him. He mingled with the fighting men quite informally. He delighted in "popping in" at all sorts of places unexpectedly. These sudden incursions tended to embarrass some of the men, who showed signs of self-consciousness. Noticing their restraint, the Prince on one occassion burst forth with "You can't be scarced of me—it's only the name."

His unaffected manner very soon set the men at ease, and knowing themselves to be scared a bit of "The Prince of Wales" they chose their own name for him. Hence among the Canadians he was always known as "Our Kid," of "Captain Pow," while the Australians nicknamed him "Captain Woodbine" because of his liking for cigarettes, "Woodbines" being the cigarettes which find most favor with the "Aussies."

The difference between the "boy" who went to France and the "man" who returned is almost astounding. Notwithstanding the prince always gives an impression of extraordinary boyishness, this impression is caused chiefly by his smile, and those who have heard him speak in public during the last few months realize that those years the prince spent in France were the bridge over which he crossed the gulf dividing boyhood from manhood.

From the highest to the humblest of his subjects the Prince is now referred to as a "man," but more often as a "white man."

Modesty and simplicity are strong points in the Prince of Wales' make up.

He has the strongest dislike for flattery and any sort of insincere adulation. There is no more certain way of annoying him than to show any form of toadyism. He is blessed with a strong sense of humor, which has more than once enabled him to see the funny side of such attempts when they have occurred. There is the incident of a well known society woman who, to put it kindly, at least has no aversion to seeing her name in the papers. One of her hobbies is to collect signed portraits of people in the limelight and she wrote to the Prince of Wales at the time of his visit to Rome, saying that she thot his Italian journey made him the hero of the hour, and would be, etc. . .

The letter took some time to reach its destination and happened to reach the prince during the period of the French counter offensive on the Marne.

He dispatched by return a photograph of Marshal Foch!

As a little boy, the Prince of Wales was always called David in the home circle.

David was a great favorite with his grandfather, King Edward, who often stole into the nursery for a romp. One day a children's outfitter called at York House with some clothes which had been ordered for the little prince. She was waiting in the corridor when David opened the nursery door and saw her standing there.

"Oh, do come in and sit down," he said very politely.

"No, I think I'd better wait here," replied the visitor, not liking to enter the nursery without some other authority.

"It's quite all right," said David reassuringly. "There's nobody in here that matters. It's only grandpa!"

When at school the Prince of Wales received no special favors or treatment. He had to run the gauntlet of practical jokes as well as take his turn in "fagging" for one of the seniors.

One day the cadet for whom he was "fag" (an English public school custom whereby a senior boy selects one of the juniors to wait on him) sent him to the shop to buy some jam puffs. The prince came back with the jam puffs and six cents change.

"You can keep the six cents, old son," said the senior loftily. And the future King of England pocketed the tip with glee, and very proudly related the incident in his next letter home to his father and mother.

Queen Mary consistently impressed on the little princes the necessity for taking an interest in their studies, while King George mindful of his own sailor days, was always pleased to see them evince an interest in matters naval.

He was very pleased one day to find the small Prince of Wales diligently drawing pictures of ships. The Prince looking up, said: "You know, I want to be a sailor."

"Do you?" asked the King. "Why?"

"Well, you see," replied the young hopeful, "I don't like lessons and it doesn't take so much brains to be a sailor, does it?"

One of the many activities of the Prince of Wales is that of film actor.

A certain British film was in process of production in which the hero was to be presented with a medal by the Prince of Wales. The producer, Martin Thornton, struck the happy idea of asking the real Prince of Wales to come down and perform the ceremony while the operator turned the handle. On hearing the suggestion, one of the court officials said: "I'm sure the Prince of Wales would not do it." Then the Prince came up to speak for himself "Nonsense," he said, "I want to do it, and I'm going to."

Arrangements were completed and it was decided that the Prince should converse a little while with the film hero.

It was carried unanimously that the Prince had played his part splendidly except that he got so interested in the conversation he forgot all about the man who was "turning the handle" and the operator had to stop his work until the conversation grew to a close, when he very snappily began just in time to get the final handshake and parting of the Prince and the film hero.

It is often said by those who knew King Edward that in the Prince of Wales he lives again.

This is perhaps an exaggeration, but the Prince certainly has inherited his grandfather's genial facility of self-expression, and has more than once shown himself capable of a witty "bon mot."

In a speech to members of the Stock Exchange who had invited him to "the House" for lunch, he said:

"I have often heard of the terrible treatment meted out to strangers who ventured within the sacred precincts of the Stock Exchange. Many of them I believe, escaped in clothing more scanty than that in which they entered the hall. But it is not as stranger that I come here, as I have met many of you fellows on the battlefield.

"I am not well up in the technical terms of the Stock Exchange and the words "bull" and "bear" are always somewhat of a mystery to me, but I know that the Stock Exchange has always been a big 'bull' on patriotism."

Christopher, Ill.—"For four years I suffered from irregularities, weakness, nervousness, and was in a run down condition. Two of our best doctors failed to do me any good. I believe the Compound will cure any female trouble."—Mrs. ALICE HELLER, Christopher, Ill.

Nervousness is often a symptom of weakness or some functional derangement, which may be overcome by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as thousands of women have found by experience.

ALKALI IN SHAMPOOS BAD FOR WASHING HAIR

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Financial Letter

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. —

A Mixed Outlook.

The financial situation is much confused by the combination of new and great uncertainties. While there is every reason for hope regarding the future, the present is crowded with difficulties demanding ability, courage and patience for solution. These problems primarily depend upon ratification of the peace treaty, the labor problem, cost of living, the railroad question, the course of foreign exchange, and the development of our export trade. Because of these tendencies and the serious unrest created by war, none of these questions can be solved in the easy ways of old, and new trails have to be blazed and new methods adopted if we are to advance in the great work of world reconstruction, a large share of which inevitably falls upon the United States. There is just one other disturbing element entering into the situation, and that is politics; for it must be remmbered we are approaching a Presidential election, and many of the new issues afford excellent campaign material for those with political ambitions. Nevertheless, every energy should be bent toward a single end; that of setting the world in order and hastening readjustment to sound conditions.

What We Are Up Against.

President Wilson is doing his utmost to hasten ratification of the treaty, and with some success. No treaty probably was posible that would satisfy in all respects, but the Paris Conference may have secured the best settlement that could be procured at the time. To reject the Treaty would be a step backwards, placing the United States in an unenviable position before the whole world. As a nation we cannot shirk some undesirable responsibilities which circumstances and our great future have imposed upon us. Next to the peace treaty the labor problem is the most pressing. Tho the disposition of the conservative element in labor to go slow is encouraging, it would be a mistake to assume that the crisis is over. The radical element encouraged by past successes is still running strong and unrest will not subside unless reason regains its sway or until there is a halt in the rising costs of living. But, how is it possible to reduce the cost of living in the face of rising wages and shorter hours? The only possible way of reducing prices is to increase the product. This, labor with few exceptions refuses to do. Until labor leaders and their followers realize the utter impossibility of securing what they want on present lines there can be no change for the better. Neither President Wilson, Premier Lloyd-George, nor any other man however powerful, can indefinitely defy the laws of nature. The law of supply and demand is one of these laws. It is wrought deep into human nature and is among the most inexorable. It may be set aside temporarily, but has always asserted itself ultimately; and the longer its forces are resisted the greater the flood when the dam gives way. The next few months will bring important events into the labor world. Several large conferences are to be held at Washington, and it is essential for all concerned that wise counsels prevail.

Railroad Future.

The railroad question will very soon come up before Congress for active discussion. The Administration is pledged to return the railroads to their owners in as good condition as when taken over. Different roads operate under very different conditions, and owing to many changes it will be impossible for the roads in many instances to resume their former relations. The strong lines may not care to carry the weak; questions regarding rates, routes, the volume of traffic, etc., will be revived, and competition which ceased under Government control will once more be renewed. The question of valuation will of course arise; and there is every probability of the railroad problem being thoroly threshed out from the point of the parties most concerned, viz., the workers, the users and the owners. Of course, the period of discussion may be one of considerable acrimony, but there is reason for hope that in the end the railroads will secure a fair deal. At the same time the period of railroad stabilization is drawing to a close, and railroad shares are probably approaching a period of increased activity and irregularity. Discussion of the Cummins and Plumb bills is becoming more acute, and it is realized that new legislation must be effected before the roads are returned to their owners; an event that is not very far away. While their financial condition has been highly unsatisfactory, owing to the enormous increase of operating costs, the Government has been behind the roads, thus far guaranteeing usual dividends and interest payments. Of late some systems have been doing somewhat better in the matter of earnings; but the vital fact is that wages and rates are still unsettled, and the financial plight of the roads continues so glaring that some strong remedial action must be taken if the country is to preserve the arterial system necessary to its very existence.

Stock Market Conditions.

Stock market movements have been decidedly erratic. Specialties such as certain steels, oils, automobiles, tires, etc., experienced violent advances and reactions. In the remainder of the market a more sober tone prevailed and activity was less pronounced. The threatened steel strike and the Pershing holiday naturally interfered with stock market activity. The encouraging views expressed by Secretary Glass relating to national finances was the most cheerful feature of the week, giving increased confidence in the money market and causing both call and time money to recede somewhat from the 6 per cent rate which recently prevailed. The wheat and corn crops are now about free from damage. They are satisfactory in quality and quantity, and despite a yield below early expectations the country will have an abundant surplus for export. Another favorable factor was passage of the Edge bill. As was to be expected the action of the steel unions in calling for a strike on the 22d of this month brot in a gerat many selling orders, especially from out of town. The fact that prices have since scored a substantial recovery is indicative of the feeling that the strike, if it should take place, will not gain recognition of the unions by the big Steel Corporation, and this is of course what they are after. It cannot be denied, however, that a good many men may walk out in the steel industry, which may seriously curtail the output. The market for the next couple of weeks must take cognizance of this, as it hardly seems likely that the buying of Steel and other stocks by the outside public will assume any great proportions until more is definitely known. The large increase in the monthly tonnage of the big corporation shows that the industry is rapidly forging ahead. It seems too bad, therefore, that there should be anything at the present time to interrupt this progress. A good many pools are still working in certain stocks and are obliged to send in supporting orders, which accounts for their greater activity and the apparent ease with which quotations are marked up. The present is not a propitious time for extensively loading up while so much remains in doubt as to the labor situaton affecting the steel companies.

REPRESENTATIVE GOOD RECITES CAUSES OF HIGH LIVING COST

WASHINGTON, Sept 18.—The federal treasury already faces a deficit of $3,591,273,345.26 for the present fiscal year, Representative Good, Iowa chairman of the house appropriations committee, declared in a speech to the house today.

Good sounded a warning that "the actual condition confronting the treasury is so alarming that we may well pause and calmly consider obligations already existing, and that must be met before entering on enlarged programs which call for additional expenditures."

The demands on the treasury during the present fiscal year are staggering, Good said. While the average peace time expenditure of the government is slightly more than $1,000,000,000, Good declared that the total requirements of the government, outside of the present finance bill and appropriations that will be asked for by June 30, 1920, will be $10,831,201,585.26. The revenues for the fiscal year, he said, will be $7,239,928,240.

Good strongly recommended the appointment by President Wilson of a national finance officer to have complete oversight of all government expenditures, so that economy may be practiced to the limit by the government, adding that the high cost of living probably cannot be materially reduced while the government continues its "orgy of spending."

Good enumerated the revenues of the country, as follows: internal revenue income, excess profits and estates taxes $1,940,000,000; customs $260,000,000; public lands $3,000,000; war salvage $600,000,000; victory loan installments $1,032,000,000, postal service $404,928,240. Of the expenditures, Good said $7,345,617,283.58 is for direct appropriations, while the balance will be expended this year under appropriations previously made.

Good called upon the president to use his authority to practice the strictest governmental economy.

Regarding the high cost of living, Good said it was due to the following causes:

"An increase in the circulating medium, the amount being doubled.

"Doubled prices are made necessary to meet the increased cost of production due in turn to increased wages, decrease in labor efficiency, and increase in taxes. The increase in the wage scale in many industries is as much as 100 per cent and yet labor is only from 50 to 65 per cent as efficient as before, according to testimony before the committee.

"A tax of almost $5,000,000,000 a year has been passed on in the long run to the consumer.

"Large increases in exports, amounting in the case of foodstuffs to six times the amount in 1914.

"Tremendous losses in man power and property, with its effect on world production, the great world shortage affecting prices in this country."

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick, Director of Press

Crestline Club Woman Honored

A national thrift organization has been formed and Mrs Paul Frank, of Crestline, state chairman of the social and industrial committee of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, has been appointed chairman for Ohio

The organization hopes to teach the fundamental principle of savings, its social and industrial importance and its application to the whole range of personal and community life

Mrs Frank asks that every federated club give one meeting to the subject of "Thrift."

Americanization Program Material

Mrs Prentice E Reed, of Toledo, president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, has asked that one club program at least be devoted to thots on Americanization. I am sure club women will be glad to know that help can be secured for papers on this most important subject by addressing Miss Nellie Roberson, bureau of extension, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Secretary of War Coming

Among the many interesting features on the speaking program of the state convention of the Ohio Federation in Cleveland, October 13 to 17, will be an address by Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, former mayor of the Forest City

Club women thruout Ohio will be delighted to know that Mrs Baker will assompany her distinguished husband to Cleveland and that she has graciously consented to give a group of songs at the convention

The convention music is being arranged by Mrs Warren Williamson, of Youngstown, state chairman of music

There will be so many charming treats that they can not all be enumerated, but among them is to be an evening at the art museum, beginning with a dinner followed by a delightful program Henry Turner Bailey, dean of the art school, and Mr Whitney, of the art museum, will address the assembled club women The museum is to be given over to the members of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs for the evening

The Cleveland gathering of the club women is going to be as planned a convention de luxe Every convenience that expert skill and experience can devise has been planned for by the management of Hotel Statler, the convention headquarters

A postal station for the exclusive use of delegates and visitors will be installed and women are requested to have all telegrams and letters addressed to the "Ohio Women's Federation," Hotel Statler, Cleveland Private telephone booths will also be erected in this section

The officials of the Cleveland federation feel that Cleveland has so many trains and trolleys arriving daily that they can not successfully attempt to meet delegations, so they are asking delegates to go directly to convention headquarters, where, after registering, any information and assistance desired may be secured The chairman of the committee to arrange for housing accommodations for convention visitors lays great stress on the importance of making application for reservations.

As many women prefer a quiet room in a private house to lodging in a hotel, the Cleveland federation has requested a list of homes which will be thrown open to convention visitors. In writing for reservations please make it plain which you prefer—hotel or private home. Address Mrs. O. G. Strong, No. 1853 Vassar street, East Cleveland. Telephone, Eddy 2535-R.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar Take one tablespoonful four times a day

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

BANDITS ROB MAIL CAR OF SILVER COIN

QUEBEC, QUE , Sept 19—Several posses, directed by federal and provincial police, are scouring the district south of Mont Magny, a small town on the Canadian National railway, 50 miles southeast of this city, in an effort to find bandits who stole $75,000 from the mail car of the Ocean limited, which left Montreal last night

When the train was pulling out of Harlaka station, five masked men climbed into the car and ordered the clerks to hold up their hands, after which the clerks were bound and gagged

The robbers then went about their work of searching for bags containing $75,000 in silver, while the train was making 60 miles an hour The men dropped off the train at the next stop

The silver was enroute from Montreal to Halifax and it was believed the bandits were on the same train.

We Lower Prices Without Loss While You Pay Cash And Save

These Two Principles of Paying Cash and Lowering Prices are inseparable. Paying Cash for your purchases means cutting off seven items of expense connected with credit business making monthly statements, collectors, bookkeepers, lost accounts, postage, stationery and credit service the saving goes to you in lower prices. Your paying us cash enables us to help you save. We follow the same policy in our purchasing by taking every cash discount we can get.

Why should you pay the expense of carrying the credit customer every time you pay cash for anything; and why should you expect the cash customer to carry you if you have credit? It is unfair and unjust either way. The only practical way is to have an equal basis of lower prices for all and all pay cash. PAY CASH AND PAY LESS.

OUR CASH CHALLENGE SALE is a practical demonstration of the money-saving possibilities of the cash policy. Without losing money and without lowering quality, we are selling lower because we sell for cash. These prices are not simply specials for a day or a few hours; they are our regular cash prices for this merchandise while it lasts, and we expect to constantly sell everything lower on the average than the dual cash and credit stores.

When you pay cash in the dual cash and credit stores, you are paying a credit price that helps to carry the credit customer. Our Strictly Cash Policy takes the Credit Expense Out of Prices and puts the cost of Clothing, dry goods and necessaries upon the lowest plane of economy. Why have credit and pay more? Why help to carry the credit customer? Why expect the cash customer to carry you? Why not Pay Cash and Pay Less?

Backache only a Symptom

"It Seems as Though my Back Would Break."

This is a common expression among women, yet they toil on day after day heedless of the significance of this distressing symptom.

Backache is often a warning of some inward trouble that requires attention, and which unless relieved will sooner or later declare itself in more serious ailments.

If it is caused by female derangement Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is what you need. It quickly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. For more than thirty years this good old fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring American women to health.

The Splendid Recovery of Mrs. Coventry

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and legs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine, and I tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound and Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking it to their advantage. You may use my name for a testimonial."—Mrs. THERESA COVENTRY, 75 Burnett St., Newark, N.J.

Mrs. Hunt tells how it helped her

Detroit, Mich.—"I was in a general run-down condition, was very nervous and tired, had backache and other troubles. I suffered for several years, was not able to work at times and tried doctor's medicine with no results. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, and after taking it a short time I was much better. I am still taking it myself and giving it to my daughter, and am glad to recommend Vegetable Compound at anytime."—Mrs. M. E. Hunt, 171 Davison Ave.

A SURE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

What Is Rheumatism? Why Suffer from It?

Sufferers Should Realize That It Is a Blood Infection.

Doubtless like other sufferers, you have often asked yourself this question, which continues to remain unanswered.

Science has proven that Rheumatism is caused by a germ in your blood, and the only way to reach it is by a remedy which eliminates and removes these little pain demons. This explains why liniments and lotions can do no permanent good, for they cannot possibly reach these germs, which infest your blood by the millions.

S. S. S. has been successfully used for Rheumatism for more than fifty years. Try it to-day, and you will find yourself at last on the right track to get rid of your Rheumatism. For treatment of your individual case address Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. 41, Atlanta, Ga.

INDIGESTION Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact, about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloat after eating, food repeating, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are, nevertheless, traceable to an acid stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental miseries that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with intestinal indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pains in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise.

Your druggist has EATONIC. Get a big 50c box from him today. He will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

RICHARD BROWN IS BACK FROM FRANCE

Richard L. Brown, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brown, 205 south Third-st, has returned to the United States from service overseas, according to word received Friday by his parents.

Mr. Brown enlisted from Coshocton and has been overseas for about one year. He was with the 310 Motor Transport unit.

ROB A BAKERY

AKRON, O., Sept. 19.—Two men entered the International bakery late last night and ordered pie. The clerk started to fill the order but dropped the pie when the customers drew revolvers. They escaped with $22 and an amful of baked goods.

AKRON, O., Sept. 17.—At Uniontown burglars broke into the railroad depot last night and stole $200 worth of articles, including field glasses, revolvers and ammunition. At Canal Fulton, flashlights, shot guns and clothing valued at $100 were obtained.

REDS KEEP THE PACE EVEN THO BACON'S THEIRS

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 19.—With the National league pennant cinched, Pat Moran, manager of the Cincinnati Reds announced today he will not permit his club to slacken speed one bit, the balance of the season.

He will include his regular players the balance of the season, including the four best pitchers, for the remaining seven scheduled games and the four exhibition games next week, so as to be keyed up for the world series.

The Reds play at Youngstown Sept. 22, at Akron Sept. 23, at Toledo Sept. 24, and at Dayton Sept. 25.

Moran has announced he will use Reuther, Eller, Ring and Sallee in these games. Every man on the club will be taken on the trip and Moran will go along to direct them.

Following a day of rest yesterday where they were showered with congratulations from all parts of the country for cinching the flag, the Reds today will play Brooklyn in a game moved up from tomorrow—providing the early morning showers do not develop into a heavy rain. This is Heinie Groh's thirtieth birthday and the captain and third baseman of the Reds, though unable to play today because of an injured finger, will be honored by fellow Masons and other fans. His aged mother arrived from Rochester, Tuesday for the birthday party.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero—Carl Mays. The "Injunction Kid" not only fooled the White Sox in the box, but he rapped out a double and two singles. The Yankees won, 6 to 4.

The Indians made a bad day of Eckert's first big league effort and the Athletics lost four to one.

Fifteen hits for twenty two bases gave the Tigers an eight to two decision over the Red Sox.

With Schreiber out of the game on a strike, the Reds trimmed the Dodgers 2 to 0.

The Pirates mauled Jesse Barnes off the mound and beat the Giants 7 to 0.

Washington made a clean sweep of the series with the Browns by a double win, 12 to 3 and 7 to 0.

HALLAS CHALLENGED BY UNKNOWN GRAPPLER

An unknown wrestler, of Steubenville, represented by Mr. S. Clayton, 208 south Third-st, that city, wants a match with Billy Hallas, Coshocton wrestler.

Clayton says that his man will wrestle for a side bet and the title or for the title and gate receipts, the winner to take 75 per cent and the loser 25.

COLUMBUS—John E. Harper, Democrat of Coalton, appointed state budget commissioner to succeed W. T. Donaldson, resigned.

"SYNDICATE BASEBALL ORIGINATED IN 1890

Syndicate baseball, so called, originated in 1890 when the Players' Brotherhood tried to wreck the National league. It became necessary to furnish the New York club with financial aid, with the result that the owners of the Chicago, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia and Indianapolis clubs took stock in the Giants as collateral for loans. Soon after the war between the American league and the National league the owners of the Pirates became similarly interested in the Phillies and Braves. It has been shown lately that Ban Johnson and Charles A. Comiskey, founders of the American league, were interested financially in the Red Sox seven years ago, and after selling out they each put up $100,000 to save the Cleveland club from going into the hands of receivers.

WHITE SOX ARE FAVORITES FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

What little betting is being done around here makes the Sox a seven to five favorite over the Reds.

In spite of the common hunch that the Reds gained by the nine game decision, the bugs who saw the White Sox in action against the Yankees believe the Chicago clan can go any distance and nose out Moran's pets. The work of the diminutive southpaw, Dicky Kerr, swung many fans from the belief that Gleason has only a two pitcher team and up to this time the main doubt of the White Sox supporters has been in the possibility of Cicotte and Williams carrying the whole load in the series.

Much is known also from comparison of the two teams in the last ten days. The hitting of the Reds has slumped badly and on their own battle grounds the team has been playing far off the form that has characterized their work all season. Gleason on the other hand hasn't allowed his machine to slacken a bit. It is true, the Reds have cinched the pennant and can afford to let ua p bit, while the White Sox, needing three more victories, can't afford to slacken their pace.

Late developments also point to dissension in the Red ranks.

voted half a share of the spoils, Duncan, Schreiber and See, who joined the club in the last month, were voted half a share of the spoil. Schreiber, who has been filling in at third, struck yesterday, refusing to put on his uniform.

6TH ST. THEATRE

Miss Una Carpenter who plays the Hawaiian dancing girl in "A Night in Honolulu," which comes to the Sixth St. Theatre next Monday, Sept. 22nd is a young woman who has made her way on the stage by careful study. Players are often asked about how to get on the stage, and how to succeed after they have managed to secure an engagement. It seems a question which is always being asked by folks outside the theatre. The inevitable question was put to Miss Carpenter and the interviewer found the young lady had very definite and set ideas on the subject of her profession. The only and practical way for one ambitious to learn the ways of the stage is to "act" said Miss Carpenter. The various schools of acting may be well enough in their way, but my observation of their graduates has been that they are harder to fit into a role than a person who has had no training at all. The Stock Company is the best school which can be found in the country today, while there is little chance for study and characterization still it does give the student the opportunity to study and see the result certain intonations and gestures have on audiences. Getting to know the temper of an audience proved my greatest difficulty. Finding our audience and forcing response from it is one of the great secrets of winning success.

HOUSE AND $100 A MONTH ASKED BY ALL PASTORS

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 19.—A minimum wage of $1,200 per year and rental of a parsonage for every minister in the conference was urged here today at the northeast Ohio Methodist Episcopal conference. Brother I. E. Miller, Supt, of the Youngstown district, presented the measure.

The suggestions embodied in the resolution must be fulfilled, Rev. Miller said, if the church is to retain the services of the young ministers.

Otherwise they will enter other fields, where more lucrative positions are offered, he said.

Dr. A. C. Knudson, professor of the Boston theology university warned against radical socialism, stating it was opposed to religious development.

He suggested a course in economics in every theological school to teach the candidates the alleged unsoundness of the theory of economics of the advanced socialists.

PROPERTY LOSS IN STORM WAS TWENTY MILLION

CORPUS CHRISTI, TEX., Sept. 19. —The toll of Sunday's tidal wave and hurricane was today placed at between 350 and 425 dead and property loss of $20,000,000.

Almost continuous rain since Sunday has made difficult the problem of taking care of 3000 homeless.

Authorities hoped to complete the tent refuge city tonight.

Former Mayor Roy Brown again appealed for outside assistance today.

"Dozens of once prosperous citizens have been made penniless, many of them actually losing the clothes from their backs," he said.

"Financial assistance is what these people are going to need worst, especially the men with families."

"But the people have not lost their courage," Mr. Brown said. "All they want is money to work with and the city will be rehabitated quickly. Plans for a sea wall, such as saved Galveston from the terrors of Sunday's storm already are under way."

LOCAL THEATRES WILL ENTERTAIN VETERANS OF 61

MINERS HAVE REAL ISSUES ON SCHEDULE

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 19.—Delegates to the United Mine Workers of America convention here were clearing the decks for action today in the preparation for the principal issues—the wage and hour—final ratification of plans for the nationalization of mines and action on the much "discussed dual or triple alliance."

The convention has only six more days to run—including Sunday— before the miners meet in conference with the mine operators in Buffalo on September 25, on the wage and hour scale. The scale committee was reported prepared to submit its findings whenever called upon. It was held probable the report would be made Monday.

Final report on the nationalization proposal was expected at any time. The committee will submit two plans for operation of the mines. One proposes direct government purchase, following a survey by an impartial commission. The second suggests joint supervision by an equal representation of Miners, Operators and Government officials.

Several resolutions on the revision of the constitution of the organization were ready for submission at today's session. Other matters remaining for action by the convention includes the release of Tom Mooney and other industrial and political prisoners; endorsement of co-operative stores; endorsement of the National Labor party and ways and means of amalgamating the miners, transportation workers and all freight handlers.

The convention voted to erect a memorial for the late John Mitchell, former president of the miners. A committee was selected to prepare the plans.

each case individually and in most cases met their views—in some instances more than they asked. Some others who did not ask for an increase were granted an increase voluntarily on our part.

"Every employe that we dealt with personally on this subject accepted the advance we made and assured us their co-operation and would show their appreciation by producing more and better work. In adjusting this matter we did not have time to reach all employes but we extend an invitation to them to call on us Friday or Saturday and we will deal with them on the same fair basis that our action in the whole affair up to this time has shown.

"It is our intention to treat our people fairly at all times. We haven't any clear idea as to why they are out today. We know of some who went out against their own good judgment and we can ascribe it to no other reason than excitement. We are not going to deal with a few girls in our finishing department; a few men in our wood room; a few men in our printing department collectively. It cannot be handled successfully that way but any person has been and is now free to come to us with any grievance or complaint of any nature and they will have fair consideration. We cannot work pleasantly and successfully unless we have the co-operation of every employe and in case they are not satisfied they cannot give us their best efforts and we do not want their services. We are already having applications to fill these positions and we expect to be running as usual in a few days.

OLIVE BUSINESS RUINED BY THE CANTON TRAGEDY

COLUMBUS, Sept. 19.—The ripe olive business has been "shot all to pieces" as the result of death, by poisoning of Colonel C. C. Weybrecht and a number of others, at Canton several weeks ago, according to letters reaching the state department of health, from packers and jobbers of ripe olives.

The department has been appealed to to save the business. Sales are only a fraction of what they were before the deaths at Canton.

The department's own experts investigated the case and will shortly make a report, it is said, that will go much further than that of the county coroner of Stark-co who found the deaths were caused by bacteria germinated in the olives. The health department will lay down rules for olive packers to follow to prevent, if possible a recurrence.

AUTO BANDITS MAKE GETAWAY WITH BIG ROLL

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 19.—The five armed automobile bandits who yesterday robbed the Nottingham Savings and Banking Co. bank here of $1,000 in currency and liberty bonds, were still at liberty today despite the efforts of police here and in surrounding cities.

Akron police joined in the hunt when it was reported two of the thieves were from that city. The two bank employes who were held up and locked in a closet while the robbery was being completed, reported the thieves were all mere youths. This is the second time the bank has been held up. The loss is covered by insurance, bank officials said.

WILSON'S GLAD HIS OPPONENTS HIRED A HALL

ABOARD THE PRESIDENT'S TRAIN IN CALIFORNIA, Sept. 19. — President Wilson today campaigned thru California in behalf of ratification of the peace treaty. He was enroute to San Diego, where he was to make a speech late this afternoon.

Thru the state the president met many crowds at small towns, handshaking and talking to 'the folks.' Wilsons's slogan thru California was "we are not and never will be quitters," and "any man who tries to defeat the peace treaty will be overwhelmed". is "an organization of liberty and mercy for the world".

This is his keynote in campaigning thru California. Wilson's voice showed improvement in his speech at Oakland last night. At his Oakland meeting the president received more shouts of support from the audience than at any time on his trip.

"When you have a friend who is a foe, encourage him to hire a hall" the president said, and there were cries of "Oh, you senators."
